

DR. FRED RENIHAN

British Columbia

Dr. Fred Renihan is a former Superintendent of Schools in Surrey, British Columbia. He has been a Dean of Education, Teacher, Principal, Director of Education, and Deputy Minister of Education in Saskatchewan. He has won several prestigious awards for his administrative work in education.

Dr. Renihan's current professional focus is on leadership issues, learning communities/learning organizations. His expertise in these issues and his engaging delivery style make him a highly recognized national and international Keynote Speaker.

Dr. Renihan currently provides leadership in educational-based Doctoral Programs at Simon Fraser University. In addition, he offers leadership expertise to a number of social service partners who want to enhance their role in broad education and health issues to improve the quality of life and academic achievement of all students.